

In the massive empty land of Mongolia, Mongolian people are scattered in all parts and developed unique characteristics distinguishing each part – gobi, mountains and steppe. The subtle difference between tribes makes our culture so vivid and colorful, even richer as it is reflected in the music, songs, clothes, and dances.

Mongolian Centre of ITI